Here's a few shots from around Navy Medicine for your viewing pleasure:

It's a wrap... as Hospitalman Daniel Poisson of Naval Hospital Bremerton's Oral Surgery Department helps a young student with proper first aid procedures at the command's display during the West Sound STEM Showcase at the Kitsap Mall on Apr. 26. NHB's effort was alongside approximately 65 other booths all promoting the awareness of STEM – Science, Technology, Engineering and Math – to primarily middle and high school students (Photo by Mass Communication 1st Class James Coyle).

The U.S. Naval Medical Research Unit No. Six (NAMRU-6) Entomology Department, led by Cmdr. Frederick Stell, and Dr. Gissella Vasquez, the department's deputy, in collaboration with the National Institute of Public Health of Mexico (INSP), developed an effective method to establish the first-of-its-kind stable An. darlingi laboratory colony at the lab's Insectary in Iquitos, Peru.
